SAYS EXTREMES IN PAINTED FACE ARE DISGUSTING

Girls Actuated By Spirit Of Flippancy, Vanity, Rev. Beers Thinks.

MANY WARNINGS FOUND IN BIBLE

Pastor Declares American Woman Are Finest And Best In World.

Rev. G. A. Beers, in his "Talk to Women About Women," Sunday evening at the First Baptist church said he would seek protection from all else he might say behind the statement that "American Women are the finest and best of the world," and some of them live in Salem.

His sermon was about "The Woman with a Painted Face," 2 Kings, 9:30 was the text. He said: "We are all creatures of habit, custom, and influence and find it difficult to avoid extravagance and extremes."

"This weakness is appealed to and taken advantage of by what we call style, and is productive of the customs and characters that characterize our civilization."

"The 'Painted Face' is not modern. Centuries ago women learned and practiced this art. Some ancient tomb may yet reveal the paraphernalia of a queen or princess, that will compare favorably with the outfit of the artist of the present day."

"Jezebel was all dolled up because she was to meet a very important man and evidently intended to make an impression—we call it 'vamping'—on him."

Making An Impression
"In this incident, this woman's very life was at stake and she was doing her best to turn Jehu aside from his purpose and avert the doom she knew her dogs merited."

"The art, then, of making an impression or influencing others by the artificial decoration of the face, believing that this display added to the attractiveness and charm of woman's beauty."

"By its present day use, many women evidently believe it is 'making good' reasoning. (?) 'If beauty is skin deep' by adding to nature's coat a bit of the artificial a better effect is secured. To sensible moderation, no reasonable person objects, but when extravagance and extremes merge into the ridiculous and disgusting, we feel that a spirit of vanity and flippancy actuates that girl or woman that is unbecoming to sane womanhood."

"Here the mature judgment, influence, and authority, it need be, of a mother should act its part, but, alas, oft the mother is as much of a decorator as her daughter."

Helps In Vamping Process
"Dame Fashion dictates and whatever be the cost, she must be obeyed. A proper care of the 'temple' in which we live. Knowledge of the laws of health, possible to all; labor, rest, nourishing food, and mother nature will keep our complexions clear and paint the bloom of health on our cheeks."

"The artificial camouflage of a cosmetic complexion deceives few. It does attract, cause comment, may occasionally help in the 'vamping' process, but it has no influence on a person of real character. All of Jezebel's art was lost on Jehu and the bulk of present day effort, in its extravagant form, is likewise a useless and vain expenditure of money and effort."

GET COP'S SLAYER DEAD OR ALIVE IS ORDER FROM CHIEF

Reward Of $1,500 Offered But Clues To Whereabouts Are Few.

Cleveland, May 15.—John Leonard Whitfield, alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, was to be formally charged with murder by the Cuyahoga county grand jury today.

At the same time the nation-wide search for the man believed to have killed the policeman while they were driving to the Fourteenth precinct police station was on with redoubled vigor.

Clues to his whereabouts and that of the woman, Miss Marie Price, of Fort Wayne, Ind., with whom he left Cleveland after burying his victim in a lonely spot in Geauga county Friday afternoon, were few.

His legal wife expressed the hope today that he might be arrested and such punishment meted out to him as the case required.

Descriptions of Whitfield, said to have been either a Mexican or a negro, have been broadcast throughout the entire country, and the reward of $500 offered Saturday night by the Cleveland Automobile club was last night increased to $1,500 when the city council voted $1,000. It was expected that the county also would offer a reward for Whitfield's capture today.

"Get Whitfield dead or alive" was the order issued by Chief of Police Jacob W. Graul, following a conference with Safety Director Thomas Martineau.

Officials here today express the view that the alleged murderer must be caught in the law's dragnet, as his appearance was too distinctive to permit his complete getaway.

INDICT M'DONALD FOR STOCK SALES

Federal Grand Jury Holds Mails Were Used To Defraud.

An indictment charging the use of the mails to defraud and conspiracy was returned by the federal grand jury at Pittsburgh Monday against Duncan McDonald in connection with the sale of stock in the Gearless Motor corporation.

McDonald was one of four men indicted by the grand jury the others being Frank E. McClintock, R. R. Starnes and Paul Moscon.

The action involves sale of stock for $1,114,000 to many purchasers in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, according to postal inspectors.

According to the indictment the defendants organized the Gearless Motor corporation under the laws of Delaware in 1919 with an authorized capital stock of $2,000,000, with a par value of $25 a share, for the purpose of taking over the Gearless Motor Car company. The sale of this stock was made under false and fraudulent pretenses, which avers that the indictment, which avers that stock was sold at prices ranging from $25 to $40 a share, with $15 of the selling price going to the sales company.

It is further alleged that the four men converted to their own use money received from the sale of stock.

MERCHANTS SEEK MEANS TO SECURE CLEANER STREETS

Subject To Be Considered As Survey Reveals Bad Conditions.

Stores May Close For May Day Fete

Series Of Band Concerts Also To Be Arranged By Merchants.

Street cleaning and other civic improvements will be considered at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday at a meeting of the Retail Merchants Board of the Chamber of Commerce, which, annually raises funds to cover the cost of the weekly clean-ups in the business district.

Steps also will be taken at this meeting to secure the Quaker City band for a summer series of band concerts to be given alternately on Main and Broadway.

The merchants also will consider the request of the school authorities that they close their stores on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 23, in order that as many people as possible can attend the May fete and dedication exercises to be given by the pupils of all the public schools at Reilly field.

D. U. Smith, president of the Grocers and Butchers association, already has informed Joseph A. Schwartz, chairman of the Retail Merchants Board, that his organization favors closing on that afternoon and it is probable that the merchants will desire to cooperate to make this undertaking of the public schools the greatest event of the year.

The Retail Merchants Board, for several years has co-operated with the city service department to keep the business streets free from litter, and last year with the assistance of Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, they installed metal containers for rubbish at the principal street intersections. This summer additional measures will be taken to secure cleaner streets.

Make Survey
Monday Service Director John B. Bristol and Parker Lowell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, made a thorough survey of unsanitary conditions in the alleys and listed the names of 23 prominent places of business which had permitted rubbish, loose paper and even garbage strewn in the alleys contrary to sections of the city ordinances which places penalties of $10 to $20 on persons found guilty of violations.

"The city could not keep the streets free from litter if they were swept every morning in the week," said Service Director Bristol, "unless local business men observe the ordinances which specifically prohibit the throwing of dirt, paper, sweepings, straw, wood, and rubbish of any kind in the streets and alleys. The law also states that no person shall sweep litter from the sidewalk into the gutter, which is now a common practice in Salem."

Bristol and Lowell not only found much rubbish in the alleys which furnishes a constant source of waste paper which is blown around the streets daily to make them dirty and unsightly, but they discovered four violations of city ordinances that prohibit the accumulation of combustible material in buildings or alleys. Such combustible material should be removed at least once each week according to the law, or it may be burned in covered wire containers built for the purpose.

The decision of the Columbiana county common pleas court in the case of Miss Rebecca Foltz vs. J. C. Boone et al was sustained by the state supreme court Tuesday morning, reversing the decision of the court of appeals.

The case is one in which Miss Foltz took exceptions to the attorney fees and court costs asked by Atty. J. C. Boone as executor of the estate of Mary Snyder of Salem. Miss Foltz received the estate after the death of Mrs. Snyder.

The case was first taken to the probate court which ruled that the fees asked by the executor were proper. This was reversed by the common pleas court and the appellate court in turn reversed the finding of the common pleas court.

FLOODS AND FIRE DESTROY HOT SPRINGS; MANY PERISH

SALEM'S CIVIL WAR VETS

JOHN P. TESCHER
Mr. Tescher enlisted in Co. C, 107th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, at Wooster on Aug. 16, 1862 at the age of 21 years. He was one of a party of nine young men enlisting in this company at the same time and he is one of three that are living today.

Mr. Tescher's record of army service was marked by a long period of intense suffering and heroism.

Taking part in the battle of Gettysburg, Mr. Tescher was wounded by a shell in the right leg on the first day of the battle. The shell tore a great hole in the limb and tore the flesh into shreds.

Forced to retreat, Mr. Tescher's regiment left him for dead and he was left lying back of the Confederate lines for four days without food or drink, suffering intense pain from his wound. Unable to get aid, Mr. Tescher cut portions of the dead flesh away with his knife.

Rescued by his comrades on the fourth day, he was carried during the entire night without medical attention and it was not until the morning of the fifth day that an army surgeon attended him.

Wondering at his strength in living through those four days and nights, the surgeon decided to amputate the right leg but was met with a pointed (Continued on sixth page.)

Hideous Night For People As Disaster Is At Height

Receding Flood Torrents Expected To Reveal Many More Than 17 Lives Known To Be Lost; Confusion Hinders Rescue Work; Relief Train On Way.

A shaky, intermittently failing telegraph wire from Memphis, Tenn., was all that reached the rest of the world today about Hot Springs, Ark., victim of one of the greatest floods, fires and storms of a decade.

It established this to be the situation in the famous resort city: The nearly frantic population was ignorant long after dawn of the extent of the loss of life and damage as it was in the midst of a hideous night when the disaster was at its height.

To the 17 lives known to have been lost it is believed there will be added many more when the flood torrents recede fully.

Fire Greatest Peril
Confusion was still of such intensity as to prevent any concentrated rescue work.

Fire, which already had gobbled up millions of dollars worth of property, still is the great peril, because of the lack of organization. Thus far it has destroyed the Marquette hotel, the Rosenthal shoe store, the Dixie cafe, and the building of the Grand Rapids Furniture company, the American Express company and the Oliver-Finnell Co., all in the business district.

The furious flood of water that roared through the streets sweeping away many buildings, motor cars and even human beings, is beginning to recede. It is revealing tumbled down houses and debris almost beyond imagination.

At spots the water was of such power and swiftness that men waded into it holding hands to rescue women and children marooned on precarious perches.

Fear Repetition Tonight
A repetition of last night's confusion on a smaller scale was expected with nightfall because of the inability of the power plants to supply lighting currents.

A special relief train bearing Red Cross supplies and representatives was hurrying here from St. Louis.

Scene of Confusion
Chicago, May 15.—Hot Springs, Ark., a city of 15,000, and with a large tourist population, today is a scene of indescribable confusion with fire consuming its buildings and flood waters racing through the streets.

Wire communication with the stricken city is entirely cut off and only fragmentary reports of the disaster could be gathered early today.

At dawn the St. Louis headquarters of the American Red Cross received the following message from the Red Cross representative in Hot Springs: "Terrible flood and fire. Damage indescribable. Will need immediate assistance."

National headquarters at Washington immediately was advised of the town's desperate plight and directed that no effort be spared to get relief to the town.

High Winds Follow Flood
At dawn a high wind was reported howling through the streets of the city as an aftermath of the cloudburst. Flames were being driven before it in a raging furnace.

Long-distance communication here said the tracks of the Missouri Pacific railway were swept away for a distance of four miles beyond the city. A passenger train laden with tourists was said to have been stalled at Denton, a small town nearby. It is not known whether lives of the passengers are endangered. The flood started just before dusk yesterday when a heavy storm struck the town and quickly became a cloudburst. Torrid electrical displays accompanied it.

The full force of the storm struck the mountains to the north and continued most of the night. The water, accumulating too fast to pass to the lower levels with natural speed, quickly filled streams, which overflowing, turned their torrents into Hot Springs.

quarters of the American Red Cross here. One hundred families are homeless, the wire from the Texas Red Cross headquarters said.

The situation was declared to be well in hand and no outside aid was asked. Churches and unoccupied homes have been converted into hospitals and havens for the homeless.

Little Rock, Ark., May 15.—The western section of Little Rock was swept by a terrific gale last night followed by the worst cloudburst this city has ever known. The storm struck suddenly in the eastern suburbs leaving many wrecked homes and hundreds of uprooted trees in its wake. So far as known there were no casualties.

20 DEAD, 200 INJURED IN WAKE OF TORNADO

Colorado, Texas, May 15.—The number of known dead as a result of the tornado which devastated a section a mile in width and 15 miles in length near Lorraine and the Rio Grande community today had amounted to 17. More than a hundred other persons were injured.

Hospitals are crowded to overflowing. Rescue parties from nearby cities are at the scene of the storm. Tents, blankets and food supplies have been rushed in from other cities and those made homeless—estimated at over 300—are being made comfortable in temporary quarters.

Washington, May 15.—The casualties in the Colorado, Texas, tornado were 20 dead and 200 injured, according to a telegram today to headquarters of the American Red Cross.

The Budget Proves Itself

ANNOUNCEMENT from Washington that the government will close this fiscal year with a balance that may reach $60,000,000 on the right side of the ledger indicates that the budget commission has done effective work. The result justifies the confidence of President Harding in the efficacy of that reform. It also is substantial ground for his forecast of a modification of the revenue act and the taxing system of the government in the very near future.

At the opening of this fiscal year the prospect was for a $600,000,000 deficit unless the budget commission was able to institute economies in the conduct of the public offices. There were predictions that it could not be done, and with an extravagant congress the outlook at times was not encouraging. The budget law, however, has been applied vigorously, too vigorously, it may be said, to please many politicians and holders of public jobs.

There are still too many persons of this stripe in positions of influence under the national government. There are other economies that can be applied without sacrificing public interests. Those who cater to political expediency rather than to public benefit must be relegated to the rear when the appropriations of public funds for public uses are under consideration.

Their inclinations are not toward economies that interfere with political graft in the shape of patronage, whether that patronage be in the distribution of jobs that have no public necessity or in the scattering of public money broadcast for sectional benefits and for the glorification of individual congressmen.

The budget system has proven its effectiveness in the saving of public funds. Its members merit public commendation. The president is to be praised for his rigid stand by the law and the commission. The country can stand more of this kind of reform.

Another year of such watchful supervision of the national expenditures certainly will warrant a substantial reduction of taxes. It will make a situation which congress cannot ignore in considering a revision of the revenue act.

"Praecox"

THEODORE ROOSEVELT invented

the phrase, "the lunatic fringe," to describe that circle of people who may always be counted to attach itself to every new movement. And according to a noted psychopathologist of Chicago, Professor Hickson, those movements which seem to promise to men and women a retreat from the world of facts, and an evasion of material responsibilities, draw the largest number of unbalanced followers.

For, says this physician, the world is full of cases of praecox. Praecox is a person whose innate desire is to get away from cold hard facts, and to escape responsibility. They crave un-reality and forgetfulness. These people cluster about cults that seem to promise fulfillment of this hunger. The present-day interest in spiritualism has brought scores and hundreds of these abnormal people to the city wards, their disease accelerated by dabbling

in the unknowable.

All of which is interesting. But seeking unreality amid cold facts and trying to evade material responsibilities are uncomfortably common in a lot of people who ought to know better. Maybe an epidemic of "praecox" is our sorest curse today.

For, after all, the person who thinks this way, is only a little removed from the abnormality of the man who communes with spirits while his wife takes in washing to support the family.

MINE AT ROGERS TO BE REOPENED

The Quaker Valley mines at Rogers, which were taken over recently by new capital, are being prepared for opening and work is expected to be resumed about the first of August.

A large new tippie will take the place of the present one, electricity will be used as power and electrical mining machinery and traction motors to haul the coal to service will be installed.

For some time workmen have been engaged in making a new opening to the mine to drain the workings. This is about completed.

Three hundred miners will be employed and many new houses will have to be built in the village. In addition to the present leasehold of the company, 200 acres have been obtained.

Short Winter Wheat Crop, Ohio Forecast

A short crop of winter wheat is predicted for Ohio by C. J. West of the state federal crop reporting service, who said the outlook is for about 35,000,000 bushels and that further unfavorable conditions may reduce this amount to below the unusually low figure of 1921.

Winter killing has caused the abandonment of 13 per cent of the Ohio acreage. Mr. West said and many fields not abandoned are in poor condition. Condition of the crop remaining for harvest is estimated at about 65 per cent, the low figure being due to the thin stand of plants.

Ohio's crop has suffered more than the crops of the country at large, the condition at present being 10 points below the national average.

Things to Know About Our Service

We Want Your Ideas

Our employees are told it's their duty to you and to the company to turn in immediately any suggestions they may have on improving our service.

But you folks outside this organization might see some big chance for betterment that would never occur to us, here on the inside.

So we hope you'll confide in us. Don't imagine that you'll be classed a "kicker" if you write in with some complaint. You're paying for electric service—you have a perfect right to your "say-so."

And don't think that any suggestion for improvement is too small or too obvious. Send it along. We want it!

Religion Can Save World From Decay Says M. E. Bishop

Bishop Anderson Speaks At District Conference In Lisbon.

Lisbon, May 15.—That "the world will have to get back to Jesus Christ or decay" was the assertion made last night by Bishop William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, in an address on "The Moral Uplift" before a large audience attending the 99th session of the Canton district conference in the First Methodist Episcopal church of Lisbon.

During his address, Bishop Anderson quoted from business statistics to show how the moral fiber of the world has been lowered since the war.

He prefaced his remarks by referring to a recent statement made by Roger W. Babson to the effect that modern day business needs sound religion, and related several personal reminiscences showing the indifference of the present generation toward religion.

Following his address due to the absence of Joseph B. Hengely, of Chicago, talks were made by representatives of Mt. Union college, St. Luke's Mt. Union home, Home for the Aged at Pittsburgh, and the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

Today's session included addresses by Atty. C. S. Speaker, of Lisbon; Rev. J. M. Shafer, of Carrollton; Rev. Battelle McCarthy, of Alliance; John H. Hoyt, of Canton, and H. P. Wilson and Rev. F. W. McConnell, of Mt. Union college. The conference closed at noon.

INDUSTRY HEALTHY LEADERS DECLARE

Permanent Prosperity Will Depend On Two Things Says President.

New York, May 15.—Industrial leaders from all sections of the country, convening at the annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers, were greeted with the declaration of President John E. Edgerton that "a healthy condition of industry prevails throughout the country."

Findings based on 42,000 answers to a questionnaire sent out by the association declared business prospects for this fall "wonderful with production increasing, consumption keeping abreast or ahead of it and wages growing higher as man-power shortage grows."

"Permanent prosperity in the United States will depend upon two things," Edgerton said. "First, there must be a return to peace and industry by the peoples of the Old World. Second, all classes of industry must come to a realization that production of good commodities must be had at a low cost with a fair return to the manufacturer, the laborer and the public."

You wouldn't even borrow a ladder like this

A complete chain of boiling points is as essential to good motor fuel as an unbroken flight of rungs to a ladder. To function efficiently and economically, gasoline must have a low initial "boiling point" to make it vaporize easily—start the motor quickly, a connecting series of gradually rising "boiling points" that it may burn up clean—provide smooth, fast acceleration, and the proper body of higher "boiling points" to produce great heat—full power and big mileage.

Red Crown Gasoline has this complete chain of boiling points. It gives you the strongest and cheapest ladder to the highest point of year-round motoring satisfaction. Available everywhere in Ohio. Always dependable, whether bought at one of the 400 Standard Service Stations or from any Red Crown dealer.

CO-OPERATIVE FARM MARKETING NOTES

Department of Agriculture Plans to Study Scientific Distribution Equally With Production.

More attention must be given in the future to the economics of agriculture and to better marketing methods, without lessening efforts to promote efficient production, it is declared by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, in a contribution to the Banker Farmer, the bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission. Under the direction of D. H. Otis, the commission is giving particular attention to co-operative farm marketing.

"When land was advancing rapidly in value the farmer could afford to take some of his profit in the increased value of his land," says Secretary Wallace. "We are past the period of advancing land values, and if agriculture is to be maintained, it must be on a basis which will yield a fair profit one year with another. So I have been studying the department with a view to strengthening our economic work."

"We have gotten into the habit of looking upon agricultural production as a sacred obligation, and so it is in one sense, but it is no more sacred or binding than the obligation to market crops without waste. If we do not do that we might as well not produce them," says Mr. Wallace.

He adds: "It is the purpose of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics to inquire into everything which affects marketing and price, with the thought that we must serve the agriculture of the nation as thoroughly on the economic side as we have served it in the past on the productive side. As to working our way out of the depression, the first responsibility rests upon the individual farmer. If he is to get help he must help himself, both as an individual and by joining with other individuals in co-operative efforts. The Government is under obligation to clear away any obstacles which do not give to the farmers, individually and collectively, a fair chance to help themselves. The farmer is entitled to exactly the same rights and the same opportunities that are enjoyed by other citizens. He is entitled to a square deal."

"It is not the obligation of the Government to give the farmer any privileges not given to others," Mr. Wallace continues. "If I understand the minds of the farmers of the United States, they are not asking for special privileges. All they are asking is that they may be assured of equal opportunities, of open and competitive markets, and the right to organize and market their products collectively, and to have the same access to the nation's money pool as other people have. Farmers can meet together, pass resolutions, make speeches, and go home feeling better for a time; but this sort of thing alone will not get them very far. The time has come when the farmers must themselves organize agriculture in a thoroughly businesslike way; adjust their production to the needs of consumption; stabilize their products and market them efficiently; study conditions agriculturally and industrially which influence the demand for and consumption of their crops; get a better understanding of the administration of the credit machinery; and employ trained men to do for them what they can not do for themselves."

That is to say, in substance, that agriculture must be put on a par in efficiency of method with other Big Business.

It has been pointed out by the United States Department of Agriculture that insufficient business and poor management are the outstanding reasons for the failure of many farmers' co-operative associations. Lack of capital, liberal extension of credit and dishonest management are the minor causes for the failure of 243 farmers' buying and selling associations since 1913. At the same time it was learned that out of 70 co-operative creameries, their average length of existence was a little over seven and one-half years.

The State Bank Division of the American Bankers Association is now compiling facts of successful co-operatives of all kinds and in all parts of the country, with the idea of building up a body of sound method and experience to serve as a trustworthy guide in the further development of the co-operative farm marketing movement.

Good Advice for Bankers

E. J. Bodman, representative of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association for the Eighth Federal Reserve District, says: "Every one of the more than 30,000 banks in the United States would make more money by helping our six and one-half million farmers to make larger profits. The banks and business interests of the entire country cannot make the largest profit until the farmers as a whole have reasonable returns from their investments and labor. This includes every bank from the small ones in the country to the largest ones in the great financial centers."

American Banker Slain By Paris Police.

J.M. Parmelee

When a Paris police inspector opened fire on a fleeing Apache one of his wild bullets pierced the heart of James Miller Parmelee, 27, chief clerk in the Paris branch of the Guaranty Trust company of New York, killing him instantly. Parmelee served in the French ambulance service until America entered the war, when he enlisted in the French artillery, won a lieutenancy and was twice decorated for valor.

Comparatively New Game.
The history of the game of rackets, the world's championship of which was recently disputed in New York, is a comparatively short one, for it only came into vogue early in the Nineteenth century. Dickens refers to it in his "Pickwick Papers" in connection with Fleet prison, where insolvent debtors enlivened the monotony of their life by playing against a single wall. It was mostly played at the back of taverns. The name is supposed to have been derived from the Arabic rabaht, meaning "palm of the hand," but lives is the only near survival of that form of the game.

the real beauty of womanhood. Such he recognizes, honors, loves, but from the silly, flippant, extravagant, he turns away in manly disapproval.

Demands Genuineness
"He demands a complexion that will not blow away or rub off; genuineness, not artificial display."

"Here learn the great lesson of the true and artificial in life. The difference between reputation and character."

"Man is inclined to put on; make much of appearance and profession; be more or less influenced by the same."

"God looks to the inner qualities of life and demands in life what we know of as soul qualities. The words of our Lord to Nicodemus, 'Verily, Verily, I say unto you, you must be born again,' strikes at the very heart of this matter."

"God builds, first in man, well knowing that this life will show forth its real character in word and deed."

The Real Test.
"An artificial complexion of human culture and religious professionalism may attract and deceive for a time. Society's dress suit and the business outfit may gain for its possessor a 'place' but the sweat and strain of real life will furnish a test which nothing but the genuine can endure."

"Man must be square, clean, honest honorable in his every day walk and deal or he is soon found out; and his real character known."

"Some of the trophy cups given by the ex-kaiser were found to be but plated ware."

"At the time of their giving he appeared to be very generous; sought to impress his important personality. How much like his character and the kultur and civilization of Germany these were. They thought to impress the world and turn aside the doom such principles deserved. Thank God, they met their Jehu!"

"The hypocritical, false and sinful can not stand the test and will not be permitted to succeed."

Bible Full of Warnings
Man may put on, profess, cover up, seek to hide his real character and 'get away' with it for a time; but he may be sure that 'his sins will find him out.'

"We have had many jolts of this character! The Bible is full of warnings and teachings; still man persists in deceiving himself as he alters his real complexion by a false 'make-up' and seeks to attain his objective in dishonorable and unmanly ways."

"The gospel of Jesus Christ, alone can deliver man from this design of the devil. It shows him his own heart; convicts him of his sin; forgives his transgressions and gives him a new nature that hates sin and deception and loves the true and noble."

"In the natural and legitimate development of the Christian character is the hope of true manhood and womanhood. The profession of such ideals, principles and objectives is natural and right."

"In the 'making good' is the test of the Christian life. By the grace of God and the spiritual fellowship every child of the kingdom is heir to, he meets the test of time and will meet the test of the great judgment; and clothed in the garment of Christ's righteousness, come off victorious."

"May the truth of God and the convicting power of the Holy Spirit tear away the masks of pretension and hypocrisy that men and women are hiding behind and make them to realize that the all-seeing eye of God is upon them, that He knows their hearts and that He yearns to save them from sin and folly and bring them into the light and life of the gospel of His dear son."

Nation's Youngest Grandmother

Mrs. Kunckel and Mrs. Mary Carey and daughter

Mrs. Markaret Kunckel, now 33 years old, a Chicago woman, is believed to be America's youngest grandmother. She married when she was 16, and her daughter, Mary, was born before she was 17. This daughter eloped when she was 14 and presented her mother with a grandchild at 16. That was two years ago, and Mrs. Kunckel was a grandmother at 31. Mrs. Kunckel has two other children—Virginia, 7, and Helen, 4. She believes in early marriages, she declares.

Fussy Men Want Many Styles And Shapes In Smokes

Washington, May 15.—Women may be so particular about tints and forms and decorations of hats as to keep the millinery business in a ferment the year round. But they will have their revenge for continual masculine reference to this trait when they learn that their husbands are driving the tobacco business to distraction by being so fussy over shapes, sizes and colors of cigars that merchants are considering what to do about it.

"Styles in smokes," will be discussed at the opening session here Wednesday of a convention of the Tobacco Merchants' association, and an advance notice of the meeting today states:

"The cigar manufacturers are finding themselves in a situation similar to the millinery industry with countless sizes, shapes, colors and odd price complicating the business to an alarming extent. Box manufacturers, too, are interested in the work of elimination, in line with the activities of the department of commerce in standardizing the size and shape of cigars without restriction, however, as to brands and prices."

Declaring that some European countries are levying unjust customs duties and other charges upon American cigars, cigarettes and tobaccos, the delegates expect to complain against the "action of foreign governments in discriminating against American tobacco products, thereby depriving American citizens abroad of their favorite brands."

Anti-tobacco crusades will be discussed by Jesse A. Bloch of Wheeling, state senator in the West Virginia legislature and president of the Tobacco Merchants' association, who charges that the anti-tobacco campaign "is an avenue for the continued employment of agitators thrown out of work by the passage of the prohibition act."

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Director Herbert M. Lord of the budget bureau, and General Frank McIntyre, of the bureau of insular affairs will be among governmental officials who are on the program to address the tobacco merchants.

CHINESE BANDITS TO FREE PRISONERS

Pekin Government Agrees To Withdraw Troops, Enroll Bandits.

Shanghai, May 15.—Release of the prisoners held by Chinese bandits in the Shantung hills is expected at once as the result of an agreement reached with the brigands by representatives of the Peking government, a dispatch from Liching today.

The Peking government agreed to withdraw the troops and to enroll the bandits in the national army. The bandit leaders said they were satisfied but wished to see the agreement signed before the captives were released.

TO RELIEVE PAIN AND BACKACHE

Women May Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I had heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that when I realized I needed to take something to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up I began to take that. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds, but now I have had such good results that I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to every one." — Mrs. J. J. BIEBER, 3539 18th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn.

Finds a True Friend
"Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 3227 Walnut Street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness so badly that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed and I had pains in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I could think of to help myself, and when a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of living in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year?

To rid the pesky bedbug, you need a powerful remedy. It is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hotels and Railroad Companies as the safest and most economical way to stop bedbugs.

Future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants to use the new discovery Pesky Destroyer "P. D. Q." A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and cotes and at the same time destroy their eggs. Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free a patient spot in every package, get the pesky devils in the hard-to-reach places and save the juice. P. D. Q. is not an insect powder, no mass of dirt, does not rot or burn the bedding. P. D. Q. for family use. Hospital size 22.50 makes five gallons. P. D. Q. can also be purchased in sealed bottles, 50c each. Genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled. Sold by J. H. Lease Drug Co. and other leading druggists.

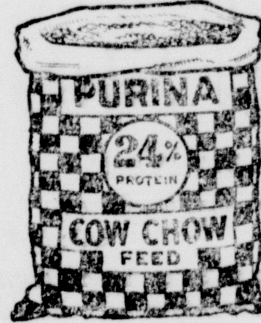

She Is Not for Sale

That's the way a lot of families feel about good old Bossy. She has been a faithful friend of the family, giving all the milk they could use and even some for the neighbors.

Of course you always think that you feed her well, but do you? Just plenty of feed does not always mean proper feeding. Good old Bossie must have a ration that she can really turn into milk.

Cow Chow produces more milk and more butter fat because it contains elements that are deficient in the average ration. It keeps cows from robbing their bodies for milk-making nutrients and lengthens the milking period. By feeding Cow Chow you not only produce more pounds of milk, but you keep your cow in better condition.

Just try Cow Chow for a month, feed it as directed, and watch the difference.

Experiments made last summer in Europe show that the amount of radiation received from the sun on the surface of the earth in a clear day is greater with a dark blue than with a light blue sky. In the latter case there is a higher tension of the water vapor in the air. It is suggested that some instrument capable of measuring accurately the intensity of the blue of the sky would be useful in observations on the variable transmission of the sun's heat through the atmosphere.

WILLARD MAY SIGN FOR FIRPO MATCH

Rickard Wants Winners Of Saturday's Bout To Meet June 30.

New York, May 15.—Jesse Willard and Luis Angel Firpo, being the only heavyweight championship contenders who contrived to remain in a vertical position for the duration of the milk fund show, will be asked by Tex Rickard to embellish the dotted line of a contract calling for them to meet in the ring on June 30.

The match, of course, is on but whether for June 30 or later is a question. Rickard has both men in his vest pocket, as far as negotiations are concerned, and the interest of the highly important public is ready-made.

Willard convinced even the most skeptical by his knockout of Floyd Johnson at the close of the eleventh round. Firpo is now accepted with even greater spontaneity because of his quick and impressive victory over Jack McAuliffe II. In the Broadway cafes after the bouts, wine-famed men shouted the Argentine's name in piercing, lingering shrieks and loudly proclaimed their opinion that the senior is the next heavyweight champion of the world.

A Willard-Firpo bout, therefore, will be worth a cool million at the box office and cannot be left to grow cold. That is the reason the worthy Mr. Rickard calls hastily for a conference, even while the fighters collect their thoughts, to say nothing of guarantees, after Saturday's excitement, their thoughts to say nothing of guarantees, after Saturday's excitement.

Willard, it is understood, plans to leave for Los Angeles within a few days to join his family and enjoy a rest. If so the June 30 date is a bit premature.

Research, told a local audience that "all juvenile delinquency causes were divided into three classes: Environment, which influences a normal child wrongly; feeble mindedness, which, usually, is the result of inherited disease, and psychopathy, where the brain is over developed in others."

Short Winter Wheat Crop, Ohio Forecast
A short crop of winter wheat is predicted for Ohio by C. J. West of the state federal crop reporting service, who said the outlook is for about 3,000,000 bushels and that further unfavorable conditions may reduce this amount to below the unusually low figure of 1921.

Winter killing has caused the abandonment of 13 per cent of the Ohio acreage, Mr. West said, and many fields not abandoned are in poor condition. Condition of the crop remaining for harvest is estimated at about 60 per cent, the low figure being due to the thin stand of plants.

Ohio's crop has suffered more than the crops of the country at large, the condition at present being 10 points below the national average.

The Budget Proves Itself

ANNOUNCEMENT from Washington that the government will close this fiscal year with a balance that may reach $60,000,000 on the right side of the ledger indicates that the budget commission has done effective work. The result justifies the confidence of President Harding in the efficacy of that reform. It also is substantial ground for his forecast of a modification of the revenue act and the taxing system of the government in the very near future.

At the opening of this fiscal year the prospect was for a $600,000,000 deficit unless the budget commission was able to institute economies in the conduct of the public offices. There were predictions that it could not be done, and with an extravagant congress the outlook at times was not encouraging. The budget law, however, has been applied vigorously, too vigorously, it may be said, to please many politicians and holders of public jobs.

There are still too many persons of this stripe in positions of influence under the national government. There are other economies that can be applied without sacrificing public interests. Those who cater to political expediency rather than to public benefit must be relegated to the rear when the appropriations of public funds for public uses are under consideration. Their inclinations are not toward economies that interfere with political graft in the shape of patronage, whether that patronage be in the dispensation of jobs that have no public necessity or in the scattering of public money broadcast for sectional benefits and for the glorification of individual congressmen.

The budget system has proven its effectiveness in the saving of public funds. Its members merit public commendation. The president is to be praised for his rigid stand by the law and the commission. The country can stand more of this kind of reform. Another year of such watchful supervision of the national expenditures certainly will warrant a substantial reduction of taxes. It will make a situation which congress cannot ignore in considering a revision of the revenue act.

Press of duties connected with the college compelled Dr. Wishart to refuse a similar invitation for this summer.

"Praecox"

THEODORE ROOSEVELT invented the phrase, "the lunatic fringe," to describe that circle of people who may always be counted to attach itself to every new movement. And according to a noted psychopathologist of Chicago, Professor Hickson, those movements which seem to promise to men and women a retreat from the world of facts, and an evasion of material responsibilities, draw the largest number of unbalanced followers.

For, says this physician, the world is full of cases of praecox. Praecox is a person whose innate desire is to get away from cold hard facts, and to escape responsibility. They crave unreality and forgetfulness. These people cluster about cults that seem to promise fulfillment of this hunger. The present-day interest in spiritualism has brought scores and hundreds of these abnormal people to the city wards, their disease accelerated by dabbling in the unknowable.

All of which is interesting. But seeking unreality amid cold facts and trying to evade material responsibilities are uncomfortably common in a lot of people who ought to know better. Maybe an epidemic of "praecox" is our sorest curse today.

For, after all, the person who thinks this way, is only a little removed from the abnormality of the man who communes with spirits while his wife takes in washing to support the family.

Bishop Anderson Speaks At District Conference In Lisbon.

Lisbon, May 15.—That "the world will have to get back to Jesus Christ or decay" was the assertion made last night by Bishop William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, in an address on "The Moral Uplift" before a large audience attending the 99th session of the Canton district conference in the First Methodist Episcopal church of Lisbon.

During his address, Bishop Anderson quoted from business statistics to show how the moral fiber of the world has been lowered since the war.

He prefaced his remarks by referring to a recent statement made by Rodger W. Babson to the effect that modern day business needs sound religion, and related several personal reminiscences showing the indifference of the present generation toward religion.

Following his address due to the absence of Joseph B. Hingely, of Chicago, talks were made by representatives of Mt. Union college, St. Luke's Mt. Union home, Home for the Aged at Pittsburgh, and the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

Today's session included addresses by Atty. C. S. Speaker, of Lisbon; Rev. J. M. Schafer, of Carrollton; Rev. Battelle McCarthy, of Alliance; John H. Hoyt, of Canton, and H. P. Wilson and Rev. F. W. McConnell, of Mt. Union college. The conference closed at noon.

Permanent Prosperity Will Depend On Two Things Says President.

New York, May 15.—Industrial leaders from all sections of the country, convening at the annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers, were greeted with the declaration of President John E. Edgerton that "a healthy condition of industry prevails throughout the country."

Findings based on 42,000 answers to a questionnaire sent out by the association declared business prospects for this fall "wonderful with production increasing, consumption keeping abreast or ahead of it and wages growing higher as man-power shortage grows."

"Permanent prosperity in the United States will depend upon two things," Edgerton said. "First, there must be a return to peace and industry by the peoples of the Old World. Second, all classes of industry must come to a realization that production of good commodities must be had at a low cost with a fair return to the manufacturer, the laborer and the public."

You wouldn't even borrow a ladder like this

A complete chain of boiling points is as essential to good motor fuel as an unbroken flight of rungs to a ladder. To function efficiently and economically, gasoline must have a low initial "boiling point" to make it vaporize easily—a connecting series of gradually rising "boiling points" that it may burn up clean—provide smooth, fast acceleration, and the proper body of higher "boiling points" to produce great heat—full power and big mileage.

Red Crown Gasoline has this complete chain of boiling points. It gives you the strongest and cheapest ladder to the highest point of year-round motoring satisfaction. Available everywhere in Ohio. Always dependable, whether bought at one of the 400 Standard Service Stations or from any Red Crown dealer.

CO-OPERATIVE FARM MARKETING NOTES

Department of Agriculture Plans to Study Scientific Distribution Equally With Production.

More attention must be given in the future to the economics of agriculture and to better marketing methods, without lessening efforts to promote efficient production, it is declared by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, in a contribution to the Banker-Farmer, the bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission. Under the direction of D. H. Otis, the commission is giving particular attention to co-operative farm marketing.

"When land was advancing rapidly in value the farmer could afford to take some of his profit in the increased value of his land," says Secretary Wallace. "We are past the period of advancing land values, and if agriculture is to be maintained, it must be on a basis which will yield a fair profit one year with another. So I have been studying the department with a view to strengthening our economic work."

"We have gotten into the habit of looking upon agricultural production as a sacred obligation, and so it is in one sense, but it is no more sacred or binding than the obligation to market crops without waste. If we do not do that we might as well not produce them," says Mr. Wallace.

He adds: "It is the purpose of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics to inquire into everything which affects marketing and price, with the thought that we must serve the agriculture of the nation as thoroughly on the economic side as we have served it in the past on the productive side. As to working our way out of the depression, the first responsibility rests upon the individual farmer. If he is to get help he must help himself, both as an individual and by joining with other individuals in co-operative efforts. The Government is under obligation to clear away any obstacles which do not give to the farmers, individually and collectively, a fair chance to help themselves. The farmer is entitled to exactly the same rights and the same opportunities that are enjoyed by other citizens. He is entitled to a square deal."

"It is not the obligation of the Government to give the farmer any privilege not given to others," Mr. Wallace continues. "If I understand the minds of the farmers of the United States, they are not asking for special privileges. All they are asking is that they may be assured of equal opportunities, of open and competitive markets, and the right to organize and market their products collectively, and to have the same access to the nation's money pool as other people have. Farmers can meet together, pass resolutions, make speeches, and go home feeling better for a time; but this sort of thing alone will not get them very far. The time has come when the farmers must themselves organize agriculture in a thoroughly businesslike way; adjust their production to the needs of consumption; stabilize their products and market them efficiently; study conditions agriculturally and industrially which influence the demand for and consumption of their crops; get a better understanding of the administration of the credit machinery; and employ trained men to do for them what they can not do for themselves."

That is to say, in substance, that agriculture must be put on a par in efficiency of method with other Big Business.

It has been pointed out by the United States Department of Agriculture that insufficient business and poor management are the outstanding reasons for the failure of many farmers' co-operative associations. Lack of capital, liberal extension of credit and dishonest management are the minor causes for the failure of 243 farmers' buying and selling associations since 1913. At the same time it was learned that out of 70 co-operative creameries, their average length of existence was a little over seven and one-half years.

The State Bank Division of the American Bankers Association is now compiling facts of successful co-operatives of all kinds and in all parts of the country, with the idea of building up a body of sound method and experience to serve as a trustworthy guide in the further development of the co-operative farm marketing movement.

Good Advice for Bankers
E. J. Bodman, representative of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association for the Eighth Federal Reserve District, says: "Every one of the more than 30,000 banks in the United States would make more money by helping our six and one-half million farmers to make larger profits. The banks and business interests of the entire country cannot make the largest profits until the farmers as a whole have reasonable returns from their investments and labor. This includes every bank from the small ones in the country to the largest ones in the great financial centers."

Comparatively New Game.
The history of the game of rackets, the world's championship of which was recently disputed in New York, is a comparatively short one, for it only came into vogue early in the Nineteenth century. Dickens refers to it in his "Pickwick Papers" in connection with Fleet prison, where insolvent debtors enlisted the monotony of their life by playing against a single wall. It was mostly played at the back of taverns.

The name is supposed to have been derived from the Arabic rāḥat, meaning "palm of the hand," but lives is the only near survival of that form of the game.

MARY PICKFORD in
"TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY"

The beautiful Mary Pickford as a girl again—more beautiful than ever—with the sunny curls and tawdry tatters, roughish smile, quaint impudence, of the inimitable Tess. An entirely new picture—as new as it is beautiful—so gripping that it hurts—so superb that it awes. The crowning achievement of Mary Pickford's career. Not an old scene in the whole film. Every one who was at the State Theater last night pronounced it one of the best pictures ever shown in Salem. A rare treat for all. Two Shows, 7:00 and 9:15. ADMISSION 40 AND 20c

The real beauty of womanhood. Such he recognized, honors, loves, but from the silly, flippant, extravagant, he turns away in manly disapproval.

Demand Genuineness
"He demands a complexion that will not blow away or run off; genuineness, not artificial display."

"Here learn the great lesson of the true and artificial in life. The difference between reputation and character."

"Man is inclined to put on; make much of appearance and profession; be more or less influenced by the same."

"God looks to the inner qualities of life and demands in life what we know of as soul qualities. The words of our Lord to Nicodemus, 'Verily, Verily, I say unto you, you must be born again,' strikes at the very heart of this matter."

"God builds, first in man, well knowing that this life will show forth its real character in word and deed."

The Real Test.
"An artificial complexion of human culture and religious professionalism may attract and deceive for a time. Society's dress suit and the business outfit may gain for its possessor a 'place' but the sweat and strain of real life will furnish a test which nothing but the genuine can endure."

"Man must be square, clean, honest honorable in his every day walk and deal or he is soon found out; and his real character known."

"Some of the trophy cups given by the ex-kaiser were found to be but plated ware."

"At the time of their giving he appeared to be very generous; sought to impress his important personality. How much like his character and the kultur and civilization of Germany these were. They thought to impress the world and turn aside the doom such principles reserved. Thank God, they met their Jehu!"

"The hypocritical, false and sinful can not stand the test and will not be permitted to succeed."

Bible Full of Warnings
Man may put on, profess, cover up, seek to hide his real character and 'get away' with it for a time; but he may be sure that 'his sins will find him out.'"

"We have had many jolts of this character! The Bible is full of warnings and teachings; still man persists in deceiving himself as he alters his real complexion by a false 'makeup' and seeks to attain his objective in dishonorable and unmanly ways."

"The gospel of Jesus Christ, alone can deliver man from this design of the devil. It shows him his own heart; convicts him of his sin; forgives his transgressions and gives him a new nature that hates sin and deception and loves the true and noble."

"In the natural and legitimate development of the Christian character is the hope of true manhood and womanhood. The profession of such ideals, principles and objectives is natural and right."

"In the 'making good' is the test of the Christian life. By the grace of God and the spiritual fellowship every child of the kingdom is heir to, he meets the test of time and will meet the test of the great judgment; and clothed in the garment of Christ's righteousness, come off victorious."

"May the truth of God and the convicting power of the Holy Spirit tear away the masks of pretension and hypocrisy that men and women are hiding behind and make them to realize that the all-seeing eye of God is upon them, that He knows their hearts; and that He yearns to save them from sin and folly and bring them into the light and life of the gospel of his dear son."

Wednesday's Topic
